
Paint Creek Folklore Society Proudly Presents a PAINT CREEK COMFY CONCERT featuring Annie & Rod Capps

Over the years, Annie and Rod have done it all; from rock to musical theater and while they continue to draw from a carpet bag of genres and influences, what comes out is a hybrid sound all their own. Others say, "Annie and Rod Capps write complex, winding melodies that fit Annie's delicate voice perfectly. She sings with a relaxed, clean Midwestern twang, sliding you into the middle of lives and situations that are always interesting and dotted with real insight." - Dave Siglin, The Ark. "Super-genial, understated musicians that will rip your heart out with a song if you put your guard down. You've been warned... you'll be charmed." - Fran Snyder of Concertsinyourhome.com. We say, Annie may be the most clever and unique lyricist we've had the pleasure of presenting, and Rod is as tasteful a lead guitarist as she (or you) could want. Jason Dennie's mandolin is the icing on the cake! If you don't already love them, you will after you've spent an evening with them. Come and do so! Check them out at <http://maynardmusic.com/>

Also Presenting ~ Jason Dennie

In addition to accompanying headliners Annie and Rod Capps on mandolin, Jason Dennie will open our concert and give you a hint of his vast and varied skills as a guitarist, vocalist and composer. "Jason plays with grace and composes with intelligence ...every note means something and every chord takes you somewhere. He's the real deal." -Gayla Drake Paul, Internationally acclaimed Composer/ Guitarist. "His playing is excellent, with a particular flair for difficult embellishments...simple, yet piercing melodies." - Dirty Linen Magazine. "Hands down Cincinnati's best acoustic guitarist...Dennie shows a creativity in his playing that measures up to the bigger names in the field... nothing short of amazing..." - City Beat Magazine.
