The President's Post

Friends, I'm not a numbers guy. But we just received word from Margie Watson our treasurer and even I understand these numbers. They are preliminary; but with most expenses covered and 240 tickets sold, Paint Creek will realize around $3800.00 in profit. We can afford the rent this year.

More important, in my eyes, is the standing of Paint Creek Folklore Society in the community.

On Tin Whistle Day I became a doorman. A Paint Creek Greeter of sorts. What a blessing it was! To have attendees say, "Thank God for Paint Creek." I've never been thanked so often in my life. Twice I saw folks with tears in their eyes, asking for a hug and just plain grateful to be part of the event. Since then, I have heard nothing but high praise about the show. You can be proud.

Now let me thank all of you. For your participation, willingness to tackle new responsibilities and for making Paint Creek what it is, a blessing to all.

Your President, Jack F

Holiday Potluck in Fellowship Hall – 2:30 pm, December 3

Hello Paint Creek Friends! It's hard to believe that a new year is already on the horizon, seems like I put away my Christmas decorations a few weeks ago, now it's time to get them back out again. Time flies!

This means it's also time for our PCFS Holiday Potluck and this year, I hope you are aware that we are starting at 2:30 pm, much earlier than in years past.

In order to have an even distribution of dishes, please take a look at the list below to see which food category you've been assigned according to the first letter of your last name.

Your dish must serve at least 8 people and be fully cooked and ready to go on the buffet table when you arrive. To make clean up easy, bring your contribution in a disposable pan if you like.

Coffee and tea provided. Table settings provided.

A - G Main course (ham, chicken, meatballs, casseroles, stew, chili, spaghetti, etc.)

H - M Side dishes (potatoes, rolls & butter, baked beans, rice, vegetables, salad & dressing, jello, etc.)

N - Z Desserts

Looking forward to seeing each and every one of you on December 3rd!

Maggie F

Tin Whistle #49 – 2022

Wow! The Tin Whistle was a rousing success! Sorry if you missed it!

After two years off, we weren't sure how it would go and how well it would be attended. However, with COVID risk levels cooperating, and thanks to all the Coordinators and other volunteers who made it possible, we had a great concert with a record 240 tickets sold! As stated in "Membership," more than half our members volunteered and supported this effort.

Thank you, thank you, thank you all!

We had many wonderful comments from both members and general audience, such as:

"Went to our senior center yesterday and heard three women talking about how they enjoyed the Tin Whistle and wanted [to talk to] the program director to see about inviting performances from the group."

"The concert was great and we loved attending it in the sanctuary of the church - sound and sight were both great ..."

"I have also heard nothing but high praise for the concert."

"The earlier time seemed to work well--lots of seniors in the audience"

"Loved the matinee time change."

"I think our concert was just about perfect."

"The performances were great"

"The best Tin Whistle yet"

"It was a "Class A" concert"

Well, that pretty well sums it up! Thanks again to all who helped make this year's concert happen!

Membership

Well it's official! We now have 46 memberships representing 63 members. And thanks to those members, indeed! Over half of the membership served as volunteers for the Tin Whistle Concert. That's terrific! Why not join up if you haven't and be part of the fun? As always, if you are not yet a member, but would like to be, please bring your check to a gathering and fill out a membership form - $50 for single membership, $90 for family membership. Sustaining Memberships $100 (single) or $150 (family)!

Members - Look for your new electronic directory in the next few days.

Ridin' Drag

by Jack F

I love our garden in November. When the light slants across raised beds covered over with compost we begin to think about next year's planting. Weeks ago, purple and white hard neck garlic went into the ground. Some would consider fall garlic planting the genesis of the growing year, and I wouldn't argue, but I prefer to think that the day after Thanksgiving is the day.

So much so that I call the day after Turkey Day, Gathering Day. Because the day after my favorite holiday is when we hook the trailer to our old Ford Freestyle, pour coffee in travelling mugs and head out to scrounge up a bunch of straw bales that were once the seasonal stars of fall. But not anymore. Folks are fickle. Harvest is out and Santa is in.

This year, a small portion of straw we found in a dumpster. Not all of it though. The search around town yielded twenty-seven clean, lightweight bales that hadn't seen much rain or snow.

(And because it's important to keep Halloween in your heart all year long, we also gleaned three straw scarecrows with pumpkin heads to stand winter watch by the garden gate.) Ten of the bales are positioned in the tomato arbor awaiting conditioning for straw bale planting. The rest will become mulch to suppress weed, get shredded into compost or used to provide bedding for feral cats, each and every one grateful for Gathering Day. Or not, because cats are usually ungrateful critters that can be depended on to demand more timely feeding schedules.

Wanted: A Don Hays Native American Flute

Don was a long-time member of PCFS and a master at these flutes, both in playing them and making them. Since we lost him a few years ago, his flutes have become highly desirable and valuable. If you have one that is not getting played as much as it should and would be willing to sell it, I would be delighted to give it a good home. Please contact me at andymather@comcast.net. Many thanks!
